who for twenty-seven consecutive years has shared his wisdom and the richness of his experience with our College and Community. As an outstanding authority in the fields of History and Government, particularly of the United States, he has made the past live vividly, objectively and constructively for hosts of young minds seeking enlightenment and inspiration. His professional and patriotic qualities are symbolized appropriately by the names of the two great seats of learning where he, as a student, sought the enobling gifts of Minerva, the Universities of Washington and Lee, and Johns Hopkins.

Florida Southern College basks in a warm sun the year 'round, and an orange-scented breeze drifts about its organic structures. This is a scene of the Deep South.

But the campus of Florida Southern is not the Deep South. It is the South, the North, the West, and the Mid-West. It is the Caribbean and the Far East, the Pacific and Northern Europe. It is the world, united.

Its voice is the soft and melodious drawl, the clipped and rapid vernacular, the strong and ringing twang. Its words are youthful and eager, hesitant and stammering, learned and pompous. It is the voice of young anticipation, of bold confidence, of a sudden spirited awareness of the newness and fullness of life. It is the voice of the traveled veteran, of the bared resident, of the sojourner, or of a stranger in a bewildering new land.

Florida Southern's culture is a living, moving, changing thing. It is not static, for it is nameless and numberless. It is the heritage of colonial plantations and covered wagons on the western plains, yet it is as new and vigorous as the sidewalks of New York and the scream of the jet plane. It is as hard as a New England hickory nut and softly pliable as a Georgia peach. From the rice paddies of China to the beaches of Key West it gathers its ideas and customs, slowly absorbing and slowly disregarding.

At Florida Southern the ideal of "one world" is becoming a reality. Students from many nations, with many diverse mores, hopes, purposes, ideologies and goals are assembled here. We do not understand the ways of each culture and nationality represented here, but we are learning to. They do not understand us, but they are learning to. "They" are becoming "we." We are all becoming one.

The Fisher Memorial Temple, an imparted Hindu shrine tapped with a cross, symbolizes our almost universally common characteristic. It stands in the Garden of Meditation as a reminder that we are one people under God. The temple, given to the college by Dr. Frederick B. Fisher, is a symbol of his matured belief that whenever the spirit of Jesus Christ was truly represented, it would magnetize all people and all religions. He spent most of his adult life among peoples of other races and religions, preaching tolerance and understanding in a world of confusion and conflict.

On the eve of 'Polk County Brotherhood Night,' Dr. Spivey, president of Florida Southern College, uttered this appeal: "At this annual affair, we manifest our practical interest in an idea and ideal, without which the world can never attain either the expressed will of God, nor the deep yearning of men of good-will. Unless we have a united nation, we shall never be able to have a United Nations and, beyond that, the universal regard of each nation for all nations, all nations for each, community for community and man for man. Only through action can we bring about understanding between the races and creeds which make up our beloved land. If we in the United States can set this example, we shall deserve the leadership we owe to a world now in a nightmare of upheaval."

Dr. Spivey has taken direct steps to encourage students from many foreign lands to come to Florida Southern. The brotherhood of man is more than a dream and it is being proven here. It is a slow but not a painful process. We are learning to be brothers of the world.

Twenty-one flag poles line the J. Edgar Wall water dome on the west campus. Twenty-one flags of different nations grace these poles on special occasions, such as Founders Week. The flags fly as a salute to the many nations represented here. Florida Southern flies them in pride—pride in being an instrument in the making of a world united in understanding and brotherly love.

P R E S I D E N T ' S   M E S S A G E   T O   T H E   I N T E R L A C H E N :

The first time I wrote a message for our Interlachen, twenty-eight years ago, scarcely any of our campus buildings existed. It is even more difficult for me to realize that when I wrote that message scarcely any of the members of the Class of 1953 had come to earth!

Whenever I walk across our campus, I think to myself as I see the students of today and the buildings of today how possible it is for environment to undergo rapid change. It is good that this is so, for it is of such stuff as dreams are made on.

That we have done so much together indicates, as nothing else can, the spirit of the men and women who have walked where and as you have walked, and have cherished, as you have cherished, our College. You and they have shared in the satisfactions known only to builders.

This year's Interlachen symbolizes another milestone in our College's splendid ongoing, and I congratulate you whose hearts have been given to its creation, and skills to compilation. On its pages through the years will live our academic hearth and family as it was in 1953, as if, indeed, time had stopped.

But we cannot afford the consequences of stopping. We must move ahead to fulfill our mutual and dynamic dream—the completion of our building program, and the integration with it of all the those essentials, spiritual and material, which will consecrate and preserve it as the epitome of the educational and architectural ideal.

THE AMERICAN DREAM

By Dr. T. V. Smith

America was discovered by those who took a venture in quest of advantage. It was settled by those who sought religious freedom and economic opportunity for themselves, and a larger portion for their children. It was founded by those who knew that freedom requires discipline, those stout-hearted enough to organize the constitutional and political means for such discipline. It has been promoted by those who could accept the industrial discipline necessary for large-scale production and wide distribution, and who could and would provide support for the education which puts a floor of know-how under the ceiling of human hope.

America has been sustained and prospered by voices that counted their blessings rather than enjoyed their grievances. There have been conservative voices who in prudence preserved what they had while enlarging their domains through prowess. They, too, have served America who but rise to register their honest dissent. The preachers who cry out against injustice, the artists who reaffirm innovation as beauty, the scientists who push ahead into the unknown and turn deeper insight into power, the business men who estimate creation ahead of acquisition, —these are all servants of the American Dream.

The dream has sometimes grown dim. It flickered when the compromise process failed and war was waged between the states. The dream always subsides when majorities bully minority groups of race, or religion, or culture. The dream has been most vivid and robust when citizens have disdained injustice and have spoken out firmly against mediocrity as the measure of the best. The successes of the dream have put to shame its failures, and that holds now upon a scale international. Our Republic stands today at the threshold of an unparalleled age of power, and it radiates a will undaunted to make new increments of knowledge serve its ancient and abiding ends of perfection.

I N M E M O R I A M

In fond memory of three members of the faculty who died during the past year:

WILLIAM GREGORY FLETCHER

Instructor in Religion; Southern Methodist University;
D.D., Florida Southern College

RICHARD MAGOUN

Assistant Professor of Psychology; A.B., Yale University;
M.A., University of Chicago

WALTER OMER ROPP

Professor of Business Administration; A.B., University of West Virginia

Florida Southern College—faculty, students, alumni—all feel a keen sense of loss because of the demise of these three devoted teachers.

FRANK LLOYD WRIGHT:

"About 15 years ago this spring, when Dr. Ludd M. Spivey, the presidential good-genius of Florida Southern College, flew north to Taliesin, he came with the express and avowed purpose of giving the US at least one example of a college wherein modern life was to have the advantages of modern science and art in actual building construction. He said he wanted me as much for my Philosophy as for my Architecture. I assured him they were inseparable.

"And ever since, owing to Dr. Spivey's unremitting efforts, this collection of college buildings has been in a continuous state of growth. Their outdoor-garden character is intended to be an expression of Florida at its floral best.

"Study these buildings from the inside out if you would know something about the kind of building we call Organic Architecture. You can't really know very much about anything America has in a native culture worth knowing unless you so study them. Knowing what is good or bad about a building is knowing what you must know about the life you live here in our country, how you live it and why. If only the upper middle third of our country would try to understand why these buildings are the way they are, there might be some reason to hope. Behind every front you see here there might be something to discover. If there is nothing, then—no matter what you like—it's probably bad. To see all there is to see in any good organic building takes study and more cultivation than the usual college education affords. Certainly more than can be sent back home on postcards by travelers.

"Ask 'why' whenever you see Architecture you like or if you like what you see, and you would start along the path of a true culture. The path we call Organic Architecture is along the center-line of an indigenous culture for these states in which we live, because there can be no great life for our people without the integral culture of an Architecture of our own. I should say there is really no other kind of culture possible.

"Actual knowledge of the 'why' in Architecture—either old or new—is to be the true basis of our Culture now just as it has ever been and ever will be the basis of any Culture for any people. All we know about great civilizations is what we learn of them from what remains of their Architecture. Were our civilization suddenly destroyed what do you imagine subsequent civilizations would have to think of us as a civilization? They would look back upon our ruins and discover what we had done and were so busy doing. What then would they see? Nothing but the pottery of our plumbing from which they might conclude we belonged to 'the sanitary era'—authors of the sanitary slum.

"So, as for these buildings in which a true portion of America moves, studies, works and has its being, if you would honestly try to understand these Florida Southern College buildings and would really know what they are all about (whether you like them or not), something important to our country's future as a democratic nation will transpire. Because not only do buildings last long but in these buildings here and now you may see something of your own tomorrow that is yours today. Yes—and maybe the day after the day after that.

"Because a preceptor in education like Dr. Ludd M. Spivey took thoughtful measure of his time and flew to Taliesin, you will see in these buildings now standing at Florida Southern College the sentiment of a true educational saga along the cultural lines of an indigenous Architecture for our own country."

The Student Government Association provides appropriate machinery for democratic student self-government. It acts for the students' interests and encourages enthusiastic, wholesome school spirit. The Senate is highly recognized for its support of ethical conduct and individual integrity among the students and they seek to co-operate in full with the community. The Student Government has achieved many noteworthy accomplishments this past year. This organization revised the Freshman Orientation Program by introducing the group leader system to conduct the program, and as a result one of the most spirited Freshman classes that Southern has seen was produced. The Student Association Court was set up to enforce rules and to provide a means to help student problems and campus controversies. The Student Government sponsored "The High School Weekend," "Operation Gilbert," Student Union activities, and provided screening committees for Who's Who, Miss Southern and the Honor Walk Student. It has been a combination of the co-operation of the students and the capable leadership of president, Frank Carter, that has made this such a successful year for Student Government.

Kappa Pi is an organization designed to give the students on campus a chance to express themselves more in art, and to show other students the importance of art and its beauty. Activities consist of exhibits.

The Alpha Eta chapter of Kappa Pi was installed on Florida Southern's campus in 1943. Membership is composed of students majoring or minoring in art with at least six semester hours of art courses with a B average.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

The purposes of Alpha Psi Omega, a National Dramatic Society, are to further dramatics and the development of the talent of college students. This organization works with and aids high school Thes-pian Societies. Alpha Psi Omega is open to students and faculty members who can fulfill membership qualifications. Membership in the Vagabonds is a stepping stone to Alpha Psi Omega.

Organized in the fall of 1951 under the direction of Dr. Charles A. Woodbury, the Florida Southern College Concert Choir is composed of students who possess an adequate voice and the desire to express themselves through the medium of choral music.

During the academic year, the choir made its annual tour this year to New York and the New England states. Covering a period of sixteen days, they presented seventeen concerts and traveled four thousand miles. Their itinerary for the year included a total of fifty programs presented before audiences totaling thirty thousand.

Highlights of this year's concert series were their program presented at the Biltmore Hotel, New York City, and the making of recordings for the National Broadcasting Company at their New York studios.

Varsity, JV., Frosh
Triumph Over Tampa
In Decisive Manner

The Southern crews made a clean sweep over University of Tampa in varsity, JV., and freshmen races which were held on the Hillsborough River Monday.

Captain Roy Couch's varsity sweepboat defended their two year title by defeating Coach Bill Stalraker's crew by three lengths in the regatta program. This marks the third successive year that the Water Mocs have won this race, therefore retaining the trophy.

Southern's JV won by four lengths, and the Frosh rowed over by seven. Times of the races were regarded as exceedingly well on account of the low tide and the churning water the shells had to race through. The Tampa crew was nearly swamped in the varsity race by the swell of one of the numerous sight-seeing boats along the river.

The varsity got off to a slower start than did Tampa, but kept a steady stroke of 28 to 30 per minute. The Tampa crew rowed at 32 to 34 but apparently didn't have the long sweep.

With Jim Meyer in the coxswain's seat and Skip Abbot as stroke the Mocs were unbeatable.

Southern's freshmen covered the mile in 5:21.8 for the best time of the races, pulling away to a seven foot lead. We localized most freshmen crews. They were stroked by Green do-

ORGANIZATION of the WEEK

This week the S Club is cited for the successful completion of a fund raising campaign which was designed to improve FSC's athletic facilities.

A classroom projector has been purchased and a water fountain will be installed on the intramural field. These improvements are direct results of the untiring efforts of the S Club.

An FSC graduate of the class of 1951 is one of the 46 who presumably perished aboard a National Airlines plane that crashed into the Gulf of Mexico Saturday.

He was Martin V. Gay who was a member of the 'S' Club, the Varsity Crew, active in intramural basketball and a member of Beta Chi fraternity.

Known and liked widely on the campus, Martin graduated in June, 1951 with a BS degree in Business Administration.

An interesting fact was that during his

The former procedure was to proclaim the runner up in the test Miss Southern's maid of while the other candidates cons the court.

Students have perhaps already tried the queen's throne which been placed on top of the esplanade by the Arts building. The coronation ceremony was held in this last year. Two years ago, the was placed on a platform in center of the water dome.

Enthusiasm is the keyword of the Southernettes, a spirited organization for non-sorority girls. Represented in almost every type of campus activity, including the athletic, entertainment, governmental, journalistic, honorary and musical fields, the Southernettes are kaleidoscope of the typical, versatile feminine personalities of Florida Southern.

The Southernettes activities have been numerous this year, among them being a Christmas party for the orphans and many socials.

One of the main purposes of this organization is to achieve co-operation between sororities and non-sorority women.

The purpose of the Science Club is to bring together students from all fields of scientific endeavor and to encourage their interests in allied fields. This organization presents to the members and guests, programs of scientific interest from diversified fields.

The Science Club meets twice a month during the academic year and is open for membership to any undergraduate student enrolled at Florida Southern College who is interested in science.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club strives to interest more students in the field of home economics through frequent discussions of topics relating to the various fields in social science. During the year, members of the club sponsored a fashion show and attended the national convention of Kappa Omicron Phi Home Economic National Association.

COACH BILL CLIPSON

The nucleus of last year's team once again, with the addition of many new freshmen, demonstrated that we still have one of the best amateur ball clubs in the state.

A new addition to the team is a big man from way up north Florida. Bill Leach, a 6'7" transfer student from the University of Florida.

Coach Clipson, the new basketball coach, comes to Southern to take over the reins, after coaching many years at Troy High School, Troy, Alabama.

The basketball team did not have the season that they had expected. Most of the games were close, usually by five points or less. The team showed its prowess at the end of the season by the excellent playing of Don Buck, and the breaking of the one thousand point mark by Fred Lapper.

At the end of the season the team went to the Dixie Conference finals at Macon, Georgia. Southern took the consolation prize and three of our team members were chosen on the All-Conference team. They were Don Buck, Bill Leach, and Fred Lapper.

The prospects for next year look very good with some more freshman blood and the seasoned men returning. The season looks bright! Good Luck, gang.

Varsity, JV., Frosh Triumph Over Tampa In Decisive Manner

Florida Southern crews made a decisive sweep over University of Tampa crews in varsity, JV. and freshmen races which were held on the Hillsboro River, Monday.

Coach Ken Cochran's varsity sweep crew defended their two-year title by defeating Coach Bill Stalaker's team by three lengths in the 1000 yd. program. This marks the third successive year that the Water Monks have won this race, thereby retaining the trophy.

Southern JV. won by four lengths, and the Frosh rowed over by seven times as the races were regarded as exceedingly well on account of the low tide and the churning water the crews had to race through. The Tampa crew was nearly swamped in the varsity race by the swell of one of the numerous sight-seeing boats along the river.

The varsity got off to a slower start than did Tampa, but kept a steady pace of about 100 yds. per minute.

C R E W

As the season closed last year our Varsity and Junior Varsity crews, defeated Tampa and Rollins at the State Championship races, held at Lake Parker. The following day the Varsity crew travelled to the Dad Vail, in Boston. In this race the Varsity showed well by coming in fourth and only one boat length behind the leader, LaSalle.

During the season the Varsity suffered two defeats. One at the hands of Boston University by 9 10ths of a second. The other loss was to LaSalle. The Junior Varsity had an undefeated season with the exception of one race, which was only a warm-up to the State Championships. Some of the other crews which we have rowed throughout the 1952 season are Dartmouth, American International College, Rollins, Boston University, LaSalle, Amherst, and a visiting international crew from Guatemala.

The crew from Guatemala was not an experienced crew but they did give a fight to the Southern crew. Before the race the Guatemalan crew gave medals to the boys from Southern as a token of international relations and friendship. In return the Florida Southern Crew gave their racing shirts to the visiting crew to make the bond complete.

P. Unger and Coach Cauch

V A R S I T Y . . .

At the end of the season our crew lost three experienced oarsmen and coxswain. Namely, Paul Locke, John Lehn, and Bud Borden. The coxswain was Paul Healy. But an experienced Junior Varsity crew and three additions from the Detroit Rowing Club rounded out things again.

Just as the season ended the Crew and members of the campus canvassed the student body, to raise money for a new shell for the crew. Coach Couch had the student body raise half the money for the shell and then a Lakeland Executive raised the other half. A shell, I might add, is worth $2,000 or more. This man and benefactor of the new shell, Spirit of Lakeland, raised one thousand dollars. Thanks to Mr.

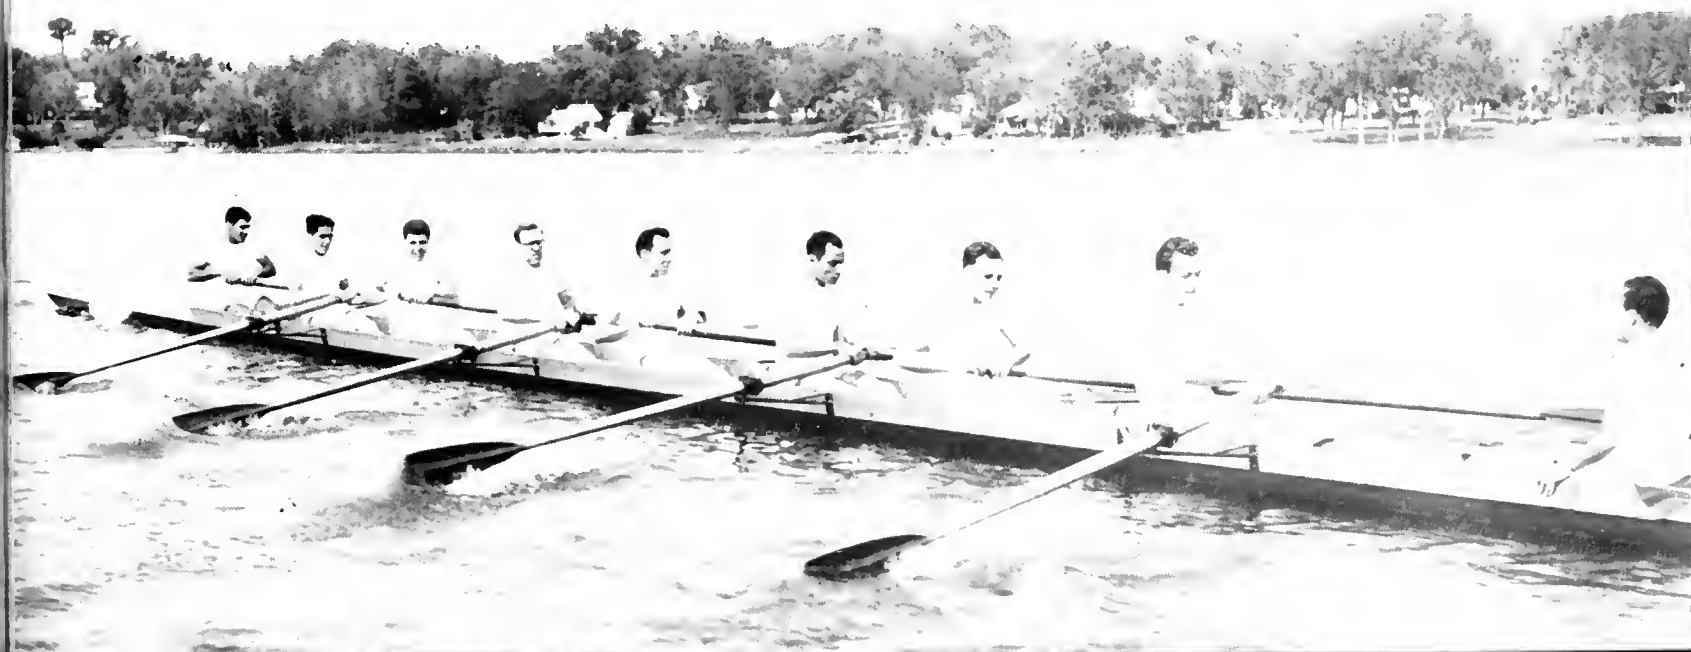

George Jenkins of Lakeland, the shell was purchased.

This year the Varsity and Junior Varsity crews have some Baby Mocs' to take care of. Namely, the Freshman crew. Formed again after a lay-off of two years, they seem to be picking up where they left off.

As we go to press the Varsity, Junior Varsity, and Freshman crews have beaten the Tampa crew in the Gasparilla Regatta, and the Founder's Week Regatta.

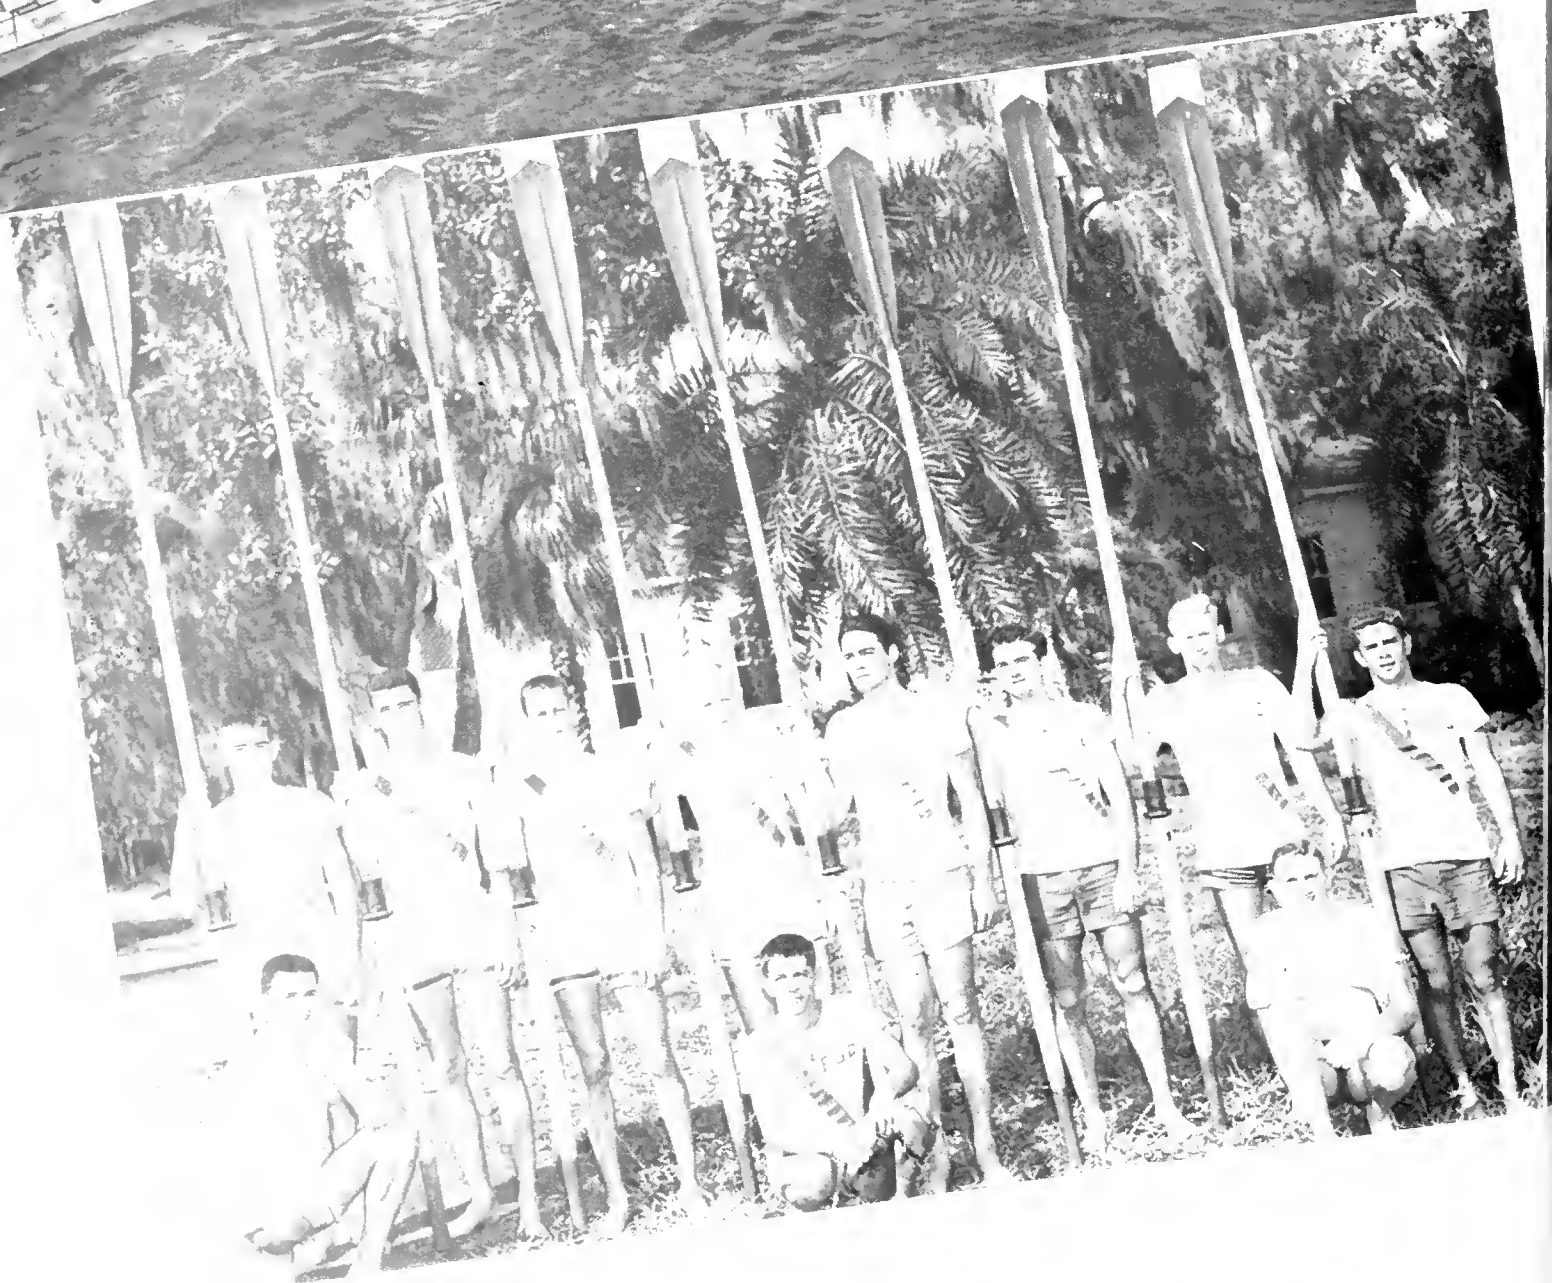

This year, Coach Roy Couch has invented a secret weapon, in the form of a new type oar. This oar has paid off in two regattas. Best of Luck to you Coach Couch and the Crews of FSC.

COACH J. B. LEASE

The Florida Southern College baseball team under the coaching of Jim Lease, showed up very well under fire last year. The most spectacular effort shown last season was performed by Charlie Senger when he pitched a double header, and won both games.

This year Coach Lease went into his bag of tricks and surprises and pulled another pitcher out of the bag by the name of Dick Donnelly. Dick, pitched for Stetson last year and turned in many creditable performances

With these two fireballers and returning veterans as; George O'Neil, Charlie Selph, Paul Parrish, and Frank DeSavino. And the new additions such as Bill Carruth, Roger Baer, and Chuck Van Deven, the team should round out to be one of the top baseball teams that FSC has ever put on the field. As we go to press the baseball team has split a non-league tilt to the Lakeland Pilots, and are traveling to Miami next week to play the Marines.

Composed of letter winners in competitive athletics, the Varsity "S" Club dedicates its services to the college to promote activities and finance to the point whereby the students may have even more facilities and materials than our school can now provide. Working hand in hand with the Lakeland community, they are planting seeds for a more vital college life for the entire student body, now and in the future.

S K I S H

A new course started this year at Southern is Skish. This full year course stands under the title of "Skish and Outdoor Life" and includes practical and bait fishing, fly casting, spinning, and trolling. For class work, students work on tackle (fly tying, plug making, use of lures, and rod and reel repairing). The fundamentals of camping and camp cooking and boating will be taught, blanketed by a thorough knowledge of first aid and safety.

As Coach Lease said, "Here is a college course that offers fun plus education. So many college courses offer so little practical value that can be utilized after you leave college. Skish is a course that can be applied long after you have left school."

There were many planned trips to the Kissimmee River and the surrounding district. One of the students is Doctor Robert A. MacGowan, who is pictured with his catch. This is one college class that really brings home the bacon.

Colonel Dickenson, a veteran of the famous 5th Armored Division in World War II, was assigned to F.S.C. from Korea, where he was in command of prisoner of war camps. He is the Professor of Military Science and Tactics, and the Commanding Officer of the R.O.T.C. at Florida Southern College

In 1951, Colonel Dickenson was awarded a certificate of outstanding achievement by the administration of the college

R O T C

The ROTC at Florida Southern College was initially established as a Military Police Corps unit in May of 1951. Colonel Glenn G. Dickenson was assigned as Commanding Officer of the new unit and Major John T. Stansill was detailed as Assistant Professor of Military Science and Tactics.

The old arts building was converted to army specifications and thousands of dollars of government money and equipment began to arrive on the campus. The initial plans were based upon an anticipated enrollment of 250 cadets.

In August, Captain Louis O. Giuffrida was assigned to the ROTC staff after his return from Korea, and the teaching staff for the first year was completed.

M Sgt. Marvin Beaman was detailed as Sgt. Major and Sgts. Wilson, Beheler and Simmons were assigned by the Department of the Army.

Maximum enrollment in 1951 was 231 cadets. Organized as an M.P. Battalion, the cadets made a fine impression upon the entire college and community.

In 1952 the maximum enrollment jumped to 361 cadets. The ROTC staff was increased by the assignment of 1st Lieutenant Arthur J. McKinney, a Korean veteran, and M Sgt. C. C. Curry. The college completed the construction of a new small bore range at Edge Hall and riflery was added to the ROTC program.

Perhaps the best evaluation of the ROTC program is that of the cadets themselves. They have been demonstrating an increasing pride in personal appearance and in unit esprit. They have been recognizing to a greater degree their responsibilities to their community and country. They are becoming better citizens.

For the first time in the history of Florida Southern College, a rifle team under the direction of Captain Louis Giuffrida and a pistol team with Colonel Dickenson as the advisor, was formed to compete against other schools throughout the United States. Although the members are R. O. T. C. students only, both squads are considered varsity clubs, and members who successfully meet match & scholastic criteria will be granted a varsity award. All matches are postal matches and are fired in compliance with the National Rifle Association rules.

The team, which fire their matches in the range at Edge Hall, have been aided not only by the Colonel and Captain, but by S. FC Simmons who has been the guiding spirit and source of inspiration to all team members. For two first year teams their records ran true to form with both teams having losing records. This is actually half the story because inside of a month after the rifle team fired their first match, they increased their total score by more than 100 points and continued in a steady incline.

The pistol team after losing their first match by more than 200 points began to narrow down their margin and when their third match was fired they won by 59 points. Like the rifle team they also increased their total score.

Both teams showed enough spirit throughout the season, even though they knew they were "babies" in competition, to prove that next season Florida Southern College will have two teams out to bring home winning and commendable records.

RIFLE and PISTOL CLUB

Association of both male and female students not necessarily connected with the R.O.T.C. are more than welcomed to this club.

The Rifle and Pistol Club, which is devoted to the furtherance of Rifle and Pistol competitive matches, is chartered with the National Rifle Association in conjunction with similar college clubs throughout the United States.

Membership is open to any member of the college student body.
